

TEACHING ABOUT GENOCIDE

with a focus on AFRICA

A workshop for pre-service teachers, in-service-teachers, and those who will not be bystanders to atrocities against human life.

Monday, February 13
4-7 PM
Winnick Hillel Center

Free and open to the public. Complementary parking available in University Avenue Garage. Continuing Education Units (CEU's) available for teachers.

Edward Kissi is associate professor of Africana Studies at the University of South Florida. Born and raised in Ghana, Africa, Professor Kissi has been a Fellow at the Genocide Studies Program at Yale and the Center for Holocaust Studies at Clark University. Professor Kissi is a contributor to the Encyclopedia of Genocide and is the author several papers examining the genocides in Cambodia, Ethiopia, and Rwanda.

